

ACCREDITED ESTATE AGENTS AT WESTWOOD:

Owners are advised that there are several estate agencies representing themselves as being permitted to sell or rent properties without being accredited at Westwood due to the Consumer Protection Act. This is not so. An Agent has to be accredited in order to operate within the estate. Our accredited estate agents undergo an induction and understand the rules governing the estate – this means that property values within the estate are protected. They have also paid an accreditation fee in order to operate on the estate. If an owner utilizes an agent that is not on this list it means the agent has not undergone an induction nor have they paid an accreditation fee. As such the owner of the unit concerned becomes liable for a fine for contravening the rules governing Westwood Estate Homeowners Association.
